

Photography Practice

Learning how to take a good photo really helps with your filmmaking.

Please find below some ideas and projects you can do at home or out and about.

Use or ask if you can borrow a mobile phone to take and see your pictures. Don't worry if you don't like the photo, delete it and try again.

Take photos of flowers in the garden or park. Try and get as many different colours that you can. Try and get the flower in the centre of the picture.

Take a picture of everyone you live with, their whole body and just their face in closeup. Ask them to do a funny pose, make a happy sad or funny face. Then try to take a selfie of yourself.

Take a picture in black and white of your hands. Try to get as close as you can. Ask if you need help with the phone settings to make black and white photos.

If you have a car at home take close up photos inside and out of the car and see if someone can guess what part of the car it is.

Take photos of different views from all of your windows at home and show your favourite view to someone.

Colours. Look around where you live and take photos of things of the same colour. Find 3 red, blue, yellow, green, purple pink white and black objects.

Try and use a light and take a picture of an object with its shadow. Choose something small like a fork and lean it against a wall and shine a light on it to make a shadow. Try to take the picture in colour and black and white.
